

"The computer user's reboot poem"

Don't you wish when life is bad and things just don't compute, That all we really had to do was stop and hit reboot?

Things would all turn out ok, life could be so sweet
If we had those special keys
Ctrl, Alt, and Delete

Your boss is mad, your bills not paid, your wife, well she's just mute Just stop and hit those wonderful keys that make it all reboot

You'd like to have another job but you fear living in the street?
You solve it all and start a new,
Ctrl, Alt, and Delete
