

Have you written a book? Would you like to write a book?

My friend, Lynn Pugh is now the Managing Editor at Vineyard Sound Books and would be happy to assist you.

Vineyard Sound Books caters to writers who have been turned off by the typical, large publishing houses who appear to be looking out for their own needs rather than those of their writers. www.VineyardSoundBooks.com

" We at Vineyard Sound Books, pride ourselves with working with writers every step of the way, throughout the entire publishing process. We offer individualized publishing needs according to each of our author's expressed needs, and we assist them to Plot a Course for Success with all of their publishing needs."
