Monitor Display
The displayed page on my monitor is larger than my monitor screen, so I have to continually be scrolling right and left to see all of the words. What can I do to adjust the display to fit the monitor.

Give this a try to reduce the overall size of your monitor's active screen.

1. Rightclick on the desktop and click Settings.
2. Increase the resolution a bit at a time until the screen just fits your monitor space....
   Be sure to write down the settings as they were before you starting monkeying around with the resolutions. Larger numbers makes the screen smaller.

3. If you can't see to click the Apply button, just press Enter to make it change.
