

System Information Saved

BELARC ADVISOR.

You can download a short file at <http://www.belarc.com/Download.html> and this software will take a snapshot of your system and create a report on your system information. The report provides information on all hardware and software you are running. It even tells you the version number. And it's all free, for personal use, and supports Windows 95/98/ME/NT4/2000/XP.
